

Jonina Kirton a Métis/Icelandic writer, originally from the prairies, now lives in Vancouver with her husband. Her writing, often contemplating the practicalities of embracing a spiritual life, has been featured in the V6A: Writing from Vancouver's Downtown Eastside, Enlightening Times UK, Other Tongues: Mixed - Race Women Speak Out Anthology, Pagan Edge, First Nations Drum, Toronto Quarterly, Quills Canadian Poetry Magazine, New Breed Magazine, Shine Journal, Joyfull, emerge.

Jonina completed the Simon Fraser University Writer's Studio in 2007, attended the Emerging Aboriginal Writers Residency at the Banff Centre in 2008. Please visit her at www.sacredcirclesbook.com